Systems Biology for Signaling Networks Sangdun Choi, 2010-08-09 System Biology encompasses the knowledge from diverse fields such as Molecular Biology Immunology Genetics Computational Biology Mathematical Biology etc not only to address key questions that are not answerable by individual fields alone but also to help in our understanding of the complexities of biological systems Whole genome expression studies have provided us the means of studying the expression of thousands of genes under a particular condition and this technique had been widely used to find out the role of key macromolecules that are involved in biological signaling pathways However making sense of the underlying complexity is only possible if we interconnect various signaling pathways into human and computer readable network maps These maps can then be used to classify and study individual components involved in a particular phenomenon Apart from transcriptomics several individual gene studies have resulted in adding to our knowledge of key components that are involved in a signaling pathway It therefore becomes imperative to take into account of these studies also while constructing our network maps to highlight the interconnectedness of the entire signaling pathways and the role of that particular individual protein in the pathway This collection of articles will contain a collection of pioneering work done by scientists working in regulatory signaling networks and the use of large scale gene expression and omics data The distinctive features of this book would be Act a single source of information to understand the various components of different signaling network roadmap of biochemical pathways the nature of a molecule of interest in a particular pathway etc Serve as a platform to highlight the key findings in this highly volatile and evolving field and Provide answers to various techniques both related to microarray and cell signaling to the readers The Naked Gaze Carlos Rojas, 2020-03-17 This is a study of visibility in early modern and modern China Its focus however is not so much on imagery per se but rather on how vision itself has been conceived imagined and deployed in a variety of discursive contexts Of particular interest is how these discourses of vision have been used to articulate issues of gender and desire and specifically processes of gendered subject formation Through detailed readings of narrative works by eight authors of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries ranging from the canonical to the popular to the esoteric the study identifies three distinct constellations of visual concerns corresponding to the late imperial mid twentieth century and contemporary periods respectively At the same time however it argues that those historical periodizations themselves do not reflect a smooth unidirectional temporal movement rather they are the result of a complex process of retrospection and anticipatory projection The goal of this volume is to use a focus on tropes of visuality and gender to reflect on shifting understandings of the significance of Chineseness modernity and Chinese modernity
