Pi 4 Indiana 1897:

Pi: A Source Book J.L. Berggren, Jonathan Borwein, Peter Borwein, 2014-01-13 This book documents the history of pi from the dawn of mathematical time to the present One of the beauties of the literature on pi is that it allows for the inclusion of very modern yet accessible mathematics The articles on pi collected herein include selections from the mathematical and computational literature over four millennia a variety of historical studies on the cultural significance of the number and an assortment of anecdotal fanciful and simply amusing pieces For this new edition the authors have updated the original material while adding new material of historical and cultural interest There is a substantial exposition of the recent history of the computation of digits of pi a discussion of the normality of the distribution of the digits new translations of works by Viète and Huygen as well as Kaplansky's never before published Song of Pi From the reviews of earlier editions Few mathematics books serve a wider potential readership than does a source book and this particular one is admirably designed to cater for a broad spectrum of tastes professional mathematicians with research interest in related subjects historians of mathematics teachers at all levels searching out material for individual talks and student projects and amateurs who will find much to amuse and inform them in this leafy tome The authors are to be congratulated on their good taste in preparing such a rich and varied banquet with which to celebrate pi Roger Webster for the Bulletin of the LMS The judicious representative selection makes this a useful addition to one's library as a reference book an enjoyable survey of developments and a source of elegant and deep mathematics of different eras Ed Barbeau for MathSciNet Full of useful formulas and ideas it is a vast source of inspiration to any mathematician A level and upwards a necessity in any maths library New Scientist

Pi: A Source Book Jonathan M. Borwein, 2013-06-29 Our intention in this collection is to provide largely through original writings an extended account of pi from the dawn of mathematical time to the present The story of pi reflects the most seminal the most serious and sometimes the most whimsical aspects of mathematics A surprising amount of the most important mathematics and a significant number of the most important mathematicians have contributed to its unfolding directly or otherwise Pi is one of the few mathematical concepts whose mention evokes a response of recognition and interest in those not concerned professionally with the subject It has been a part of human culture and the educated imagination for more than twenty five hundred years The computation of pi is virtually the only topic from the most ancient stratum of mathematics that is still of serious interest to modern mathematical research To pursue this topic as it developed throughout the millennia is to follow a thread through the history of mathematics that winds through geometry analysis and special functions numerical analysis algebra and number theory It offers a subject that provides mathematicians with examples of many current mathematical techniques as well as a palpable sense of their historical development Why a Source Book Few books serve wider potential audiences than does a source book To our knowledge there is at present no easy access to the bulk of the material we have collected

Pi: The Next Generation David H. Bailey, Jonathan M. Borwein, 2016-07-19 This book contains a compendium of 25 papers published since the 1970s dealing with pi and associated topics of mathematics and computer science The collection begins with a Foreword by Bruce Berndt Each contribution is preceded by a brief summary of its content as well as a short key word list indicating how the content relates to others in the collection The volume includes articles on actual computations of pi articles on mathematical questions related to pi e g Is pi normal articles presenting new and often amazing techniques for computing digits of pi e g the BBP algorithm for pi which permits one to compute an arbitrary binary digit of pi without needing to compute any of the digits that came before papers presenting important fundamental mathematical results relating to pi and papers presenting new high tech techniques for analyzing pi i e new graphical techniques that permit one to visually see if pi and other numbers are normal This volume is a companion to Pi A Source Book whose third edition released in 2004 The present collection begins with 2 papers from 1976 published by Eugene Salamin and Richard Brent which describe quadratically convergent algorithms for pi and other basic mathematical functions derived from some mathematical work of Gauss Bailey and Borwein hold that these two papers constitute the beginning of the modern era of computational mathematics This time period 1970s also corresponds with the introduction of high performance computer systems supercomputers which since that time have increased relentlessly in power by approximately a factor of 100 000 000 advancing roughly at the same rate as Moore's Law of semiconductor technology This book may be of interest to a wide range of mathematical readers some articles cover more advanced research questions suitable for active researchers in the field but several are highly accessible to undergraduate mathematics students

The Simpsons and Their Mathematical Secrets Simon Singh, 2013-10-29 From bestselling author of Fermat's Last Theorem a must have for number lovers and Simpsons fans An entertaining picture of the insanely high minded nature of the Simpsons writers Sunday Times A valuable entertaining book that above all celebrates a supremely funny sophisticated show Financial Times You may have watched hundreds of episodes of The Simpsons and its sister show Futurama without ever realising that they contain enough maths to form an entire university course In The Simpsons and Their Mathematical Secrets Simon Singh explains how the brilliant writers some of the mathematicians have smuggled in mathematical jokes throughout the cartoon s twenty five year history exploring everything from to Mersenne primes from Euler s equation to the unsolved riddle of P vs NP from perfect numbers to narcissistic numbers and much more With wit clarity and a true fan s zeal Singh analyses such memorable episodes as Bart the Genius and Homer³ to offer an entirely new insight into the most successful show in television history

The Moraines of Southeastern South Dakota and Their Attendant Deposits James Edward Todd,1899 Annual Reports of the Officers of State of the State of Indiana Indiana,1898 Mathematics Before and After Pythagoras Ravi P. Agarwal,2024-11-29 This book provides the reader with a comprehensive account of the contributions of Pythagoras to mathematics and philosophy using them as a starting point to compare pre Pythagorean accomplishments with the myriad mathematical developments that followed It begins with a thorough study of Pythagoreanism and the early Pythagoreans including the major events in Pythagoras life and the origins of the mystical significance attributed by Pythagoreans to natural numbers From Chapter 3 onward the book describes how mathematical thinking works and prepares the reader for the subsequent chapters which cover mathematical logic and proofs their application to the study of natural and prime numbers the investigation of Pythagorean triples figurative numbers and irrational numbers all interwoven with rich historical context Aimed at students and teachers at all levels this work is accessible to non mathematicians as well with the main prerequisite being an avid curiosity about some of the ideas and thinkers that helped to forge the mathematical world as we know it Early praises for Mathematics Before and After Pythagoras Your book is charming and fun to read It would be fine to be able to teach from it Steve Krantz USA your new book an obvious labor of love I can see that it will be an inspiration for young students Bruce Berndt USA It is an excellent book and I am deeply grateful for sending it to me It is an extraordinary gift and I am so grateful for this Carlo Cattani Italy I am really impressed by the wealth of interesting material you have collected and presented Rainer Kress Germany Lies They Teach in School Herb W. Reich,2012-05-01 It is a cliché that history is written by the victors but what we accept as history is replete with stories of great men and events that either never happened or didn t happen the way we were told they did Such items are taught in schools They are passed down to us by our families and friends and have become part of our shared cultural knowledge And they are wrong Touching on a number of topics including history current events government sports geography and popular culture Lies They Teach in School exposes errors that have been perpetuated for far too long It will enlighten and entertain It will certainly start a number of arguments and settle a few others
